

Weekend Workshop for World Environment Day (WED)

Name of School : School of Design
Department : Architecture
Date of Activity : 05/06/2017

Activity Type	Weekend Workshop for World Environment Day (WED)
Date	03/06/2017 – to 05/06/2017	Duration	03
Semester	2, 4 and 6	No. of Students	120
Expert Name with Designation	- NA -
Name of Organization	- NA -
Expert contact details	- NA -
Faculty Coordinator	Prof. Chintan Patel, Prof. Zalak Shah
Faculty contact details	chintand2@gmail.com
Sponsoring authority	- NA -	Sponsorship amount:	- NA -

About the activity (topic):

PAINT TO SAVE

Venus Institute of Design has commemorated World Environment Day (WED) that occurs on 5 June every year. It is the United Nation's principal vehicle for encouraging worldwide awareness and action for the protection of our environment. First held in 1974, it has been a flagship campaign for raising awareness on emerging environmental issues from marine pollution, human overpopulation, and global warming, to sustainable consumption and wildlife crime. WED has grown to become a global platform for public outreach, with participation from over 143 countries annually. Each year, WED has a new theme that major corporations, NGOs, communities, governments and celebrities across the globe adopt to advocate environmental causes.

Outcome (Benefits to students, faculties, school, and University):

In order to show solidarity to the concern environment, students of architecture had participated in a two-day workshop to paint the tree shades, which were planted for the protection of the trees in the surrounding village roads. Students have creatively developed several themes on environment conservation and created awareness across the village, through this activity.

Enormously, not only students, faculties and college but the villagers were also benefited as their creativity gave new light of the day to others.

Let the picture speaks thousands time louder than words. Extolling World Environment Day with a deviating way sounds interesting. Isn't it!

School of Design

Photographs:

